PASS MASTERS

PASS INC.

The PASS Masters' Course is designed to provide PASS client organizations with Internal Expertise and Independence that will allow them to Coach and Support the components of PASS and significantly reduce the onsite involvement of the PASS Consultant. This advanced course explores all of the PASS Components and how these Components are implemented and established in order to improve the client's Safety Culture.

November 2011 PASS Masters

This extensive course encompasses all the PASS training courses and spends a significant amount of time on the Psychological Foundations of PASS and the Role of the Internal Consultant. 'New clients' will find this course invaluable in implementing the PASS System and our 'mature clients' will find it to be an essential part of establishing and embedding PASS within their organization. One of the goals for participants is to develop an action plan to enhance PASS and improve the roles of key personnel in supporting the PASS System during all three stages of its implementation.

Jim Burns

Taught by Jim Burns, creator and founder of PASS Inc., in a 'story telling' style with focus on the role of Safety Leadership, Decision Making and the new concept of SupLex.™ Jim is assisted by Marc Patenaude, Senior Consultant, who adds valuable insight and coaching to the 'breakout teams' during the course and assists the participants in the development of their PASS action plans for their organization.
